YOU ALWAYS MATTER TO US

That's why we are always looking for new benefits that will help you take charge of your life and your health.

Introducing the QualCare Health Information Line

Health needs don't always follow regular business hours. But with QualCare's Health Information Line, you always have easy access to helpful information and support. Nurses are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, providing convenient, confidential services. A Health Information Line nurse is always there to answer the phone, offering education and support to help you make more informed decisions about your health and wellness. Services are also available for non-English speaking and hearing-impaired callers.

Be on the Lookout for Our New Wellness Program

Your Health is Important to Us. APEHP will be offering a new voluntary wellness program that will reward both our members and our employers for participating in our program. More information will be coming in late February about this program.
